

Regents Approve Housing Change

Based upon recommendations of Northwest Missouri State College's student personnel staff, the MSC board of regents has approved a change in housing policy.

A statement released by Mr. Phil H. Hayes, dean of students, concerning the new housing regulations states: "Northwest Missouri State College wishes to maintain a flexible housing policy which is in the best interests of both the students and the college. For this reason students who have attained sophomore status (27 hours), or who are at least 21 years of age, are eligible to live in housing of their own choosing. Freshmen must live in the college residence halls unless they are married or commuting from home as long as space is available in the residence hall system.

"Freshmen students wishing to live with relatives may do so with permission from the Housing Committee. This committee also hears petitions from students wanting to break their residence hall contracts and those students requesting to be exceptions to the above policy.

"A list of off-campus housing is available in the student personnel office. These listings are in no way approved or recommended by the college. Housemothers merely register vacancies with the college each semester."

The new policy goes into effect June 1.

Previously, all students not living in college residence halls had been required to live in "approved" housing, except students of senior classification or students over 21 years of age. The new regulations now allow any student of sophomore status or above to live off campus in housing of his or her own choice.

Philharmonic Group To Perform at MSC

The Kansas City Philharmonic will give two performances on campus Tuesday, one in Lamkin Gymnasium at 1:30 p. m. and the other in the Charles Johnson Theater at 8 p. m.

The Kansas City Philharmonic has steadily risen in stature as an important cultural asset to the Midwest. Its influence goes beyond simply bringing fine music to appreciative listeners of all ages.

With its far-reaching youth concerts, the Philharmonic has played an important part in the educational process of the Kansas City area schools. Leading industrialists and economists of the Kansas City area have commended the Philharmonic for its role in attracting high caliber personnel to the city.

The orchestra's regional activities have been growing in recent years, with almost 100 concerts played during the past season. The Missouri State Council on the Arts strongly supports the Philharmonic for Missouri appearances outside Kansas City. Under the auspices of art councils in adjoining states and through area tours the Kansas City group is winning wide approval each year.

The Philharmonic was established in 1933 by Kansas City community, civic, and cultural leaders, and has continued to grow to its current total of 79 members. About one-third of the players in the Orchestra are women, and there are several married couples among the musicians.

Tickets for the concert are available at the Union office.

Board of Regents Reorganizes Old Administrative Structure

Dr. Charles Thate
Vice President
Student Affairs

Dr. Dwain Small
Vice President
Academic Affairs

Dr. Don Petry
Vice President
Business Affairs

The Northwest Missouri State College Board of Regents has announced a continuation of the reorganization of MSC's academic and administrative structure with the naming of three vice presidents, effective March 1.

Named to the new positions are Dr. Charles Thate, formerly dean of administration, vice president for student affairs; Dr. Dwain Small, formerly dean of faculties, vice president for academic affairs, and Dr. Don Petry, formerly associate dean of administration, vice president for business affairs. The three deans' positions have been abolished.

According to the regents, the new positions were created to define more clearly and accurately the levels of authority among the various components of the college.

Last year, the regents consolidated the former academic divisional structure of nine divisions into three divisions — the division of education, the division of arts and sciences, and the division of vocations and professions. A further change announced by the regents renames the divisions as schools. As a result, the three divisions will be known as the School of Education, the School of Arts and Sciences, and the School of Vocations and Professions.

Graduate studies will continue to be a part of each school, and Dr. Leon F. Miller will continue to serve as dean of graduate studies. It is hoped that in the near future the deanships of the three schools will be filled. Since the divisional reorganization, the existing administration has assumed the duties of chairmen of the three divisions.

The three vice presidents and Mr. Everett W. Brown, assistant to the president, will constitute a presidential council headed by Dr. Robert P. Foster, MSC president.

AWS Plans 'Love Story' Revue

It will be June in March when AWS presents its annual Bridal Show at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Charles Johnson Theater.

Inspired by the show's theme "Love Story," co-chairmen Mary Plough and Chris Sorensen promise to present to campus women who are planning weddings, as well as those who would like to be planning weddings, some of the newest and most elegant bridal attire. The staff at Townsend and Wall of St. Joseph is selecting the store's finest nuptial apparel to delight candidates for that all-important MRS. degree.

Kathy Schwartz is the chairman of the committee publicizing the show. Barb Lundergan and Jeanie Pyles are compiling programs, and Diane Poynter will make sure the models are accented by complementary scenery.

A variety of models will become living manikins for the fashions. The audience can expect to see Cindy Furst, Kay Olofson, Nan Tiehen, Patrice Messer, Mary Cauveren, Sue Johnson, Christi Hecox, Stephanie Schottel, Dixie Shell, Barb O'Dell, Carole Kinman, Carol Shoemaker, Diana Mullins, Paula Moyer, Charlene Rush, Barb Stevens, Marjorie Steinmeir, Barb Thompson, Tobi Cummins, Sue Kroeger, and Lois Wilson.

The women of the show will be escorted by Steve Schottel, Steve Hunter, Steve McCluskey, Pete Bataillon, Don Jones and Wayne Steinmeir.

Building Exodus Follows Bomb Call

Colden Hall was cleared of all personnel at 10 a. m. Tuesday after the office of President R. P. Foster received an anonymous telephone call saying a bomb had been planted in the building.

The caller indicated the bomb would explode in five minutes and then hung up. As a precautionary measure, the president ordered the evacuation of the building. City police and state patrolmen were summoned to check the building before classes were resumed one-half hour later.

100 Students Earn Merit Scholarships

One hundred upperclass students showing outstanding academic achievement at MSC have been awarded merit scholarships to be used during the fall and spring semesters of the 1971-72 academic year.

"The mean fall grade-point of the recipients was 3.80 and the mean cumulative grade-point average was 3.60," reported Mr. Max R. Fuller, director of Student Financial Aid.

Students who have maintained at least a 3.0 grade average on a 4.0 grade-point scale during their last complete semester prior to application are eligible to submit their names to the Merit Scholarship Committee for consideration.

The merit scholarship is awarded for two semesters, but recipients must have at least a 3.0 in the fall semester to retain the scholarship through the spring semester. Although these are all one-year scholarships, all upperclass students who meet eligibility requirements may reapply each year for an additional scholarship.

All 1971-72 recipients are asked to report immediately to the Office of Student Financial Aid to complete a scholarship acceptance card, Mr. Fuller said.

The scholarship recipients are as follows: Evelyn Abbott, Brenda Anderson, Francis Auffert, Luwanna Baker, Connie Balle, Sherry Barnes, Elizabeth Baumli, Judy Beemer, Pamela Bergmann, Robert William Berning, James Binning, Charlotte Bowen, Kenneth Bowman, Rebecca Brinkman, Roberta Brown, Susan Bruster, Mary Burgess, Michael Byrd, Sydney Chambers, Linda Clizer, Carla Cornelius, David Crouse, and Carmen Curtis.

Board Restates Policy

In light of recent letters to the editor and comments made by some MSC students, the Missourian editorial board has concluded that some readers are misinformed about our editorial policy and the source of Missourian production funds.

The Missourian staff welcomes letters to the editor and editorial comments and encourages students to use this means to voice their opinions and to initiate meaningful dialogue. All such contributions must be signed and submitted to the Missourian office on the first floor of Colden Hall by no later than 3 p. m. Monday.

Student opinion contributions are reviewed by the editorial board at a meeting each Monday afternoon and the large majority of the letters are accepted and printed. Only those letters which are submitted unsigned, written in poor taste, or containing incorrect information are rejected.

The board reserves the right to determine whether a letter will be printed with the author's name; however, a letter, whether signed or unsigned, does not necessarily reflect the opinion of the board. Only editorials which are unsigned are submitted as editorial board opinion.

Another misconception which should be corrected concerns the Missourian budget. Contrary to the beliefs of some students, the Missourian is not financed primarily by students' activity fees. In fact, approximately one-third of the budget is earned through the sale of advertisements and through newspaper subscriptions. More than 1,600 papers are mailed out each week. State funds, not student activity funds, are also employed to help finance such projects as printing the 1971 summer class schedule.

The student work budget is funded through the state and student work fund; however, much of the work-time on the paper is donated by interested students whose only pay is in the experience which they receive, experience which we are trying to keep as professional as possible.

Students with questions about any other phase of Missourian production or ideas for improving the newspaper are encouraged to come to the Missourian office and talk to any staff leader. We need to be aware of your ideas in order to maintain a student-oriented publication.

EDITOR'S MAIL... Voice of the Students

Dear Mr. Feldman and Editor,

I read your Letter to the Editor with a great deal of interest. In your opinion, I am sure you feel you have some legitimate points in your argument that "there is nothing to do on campus" and it is Union Board's job to put some glamour into your drab college life.

First of all, I would like to reiterate the policy of the Board and the premises under which it operates. We feel it is our responsibility to present varied and balanced programming to the students of NWMSC. For this reason we try to bring as many different types of entertainment to campus as possible.

To pay for these events we have been allotted a budget from the administration made up of a percentage of your student activity fees. You the student have already been burdened with the cost of this entertainment; however, we have a policy of presenting the majority of our events with no charge or with a minimum price to cover miscellaneous expenses. For this reason it is necessary for us to extend our budget throughout the entire year. Granted, we do have a generous budget, but we are bound not to go over it.

This year, the Board feels that we have done quite a bit of good work. We have presented three concerts and are planning a fourth, more than in any years past. We have presented four coffee houses and are planning more, more than in any years past. We took into account the desires of the students to have bigger name speakers, and we have brought them here: Stephen Butter, draft attorney; Floyd McKissick, Black Power advocate; Sander VanOcur, NBC newsmen; Bernadette Devlin, Irish civil rights advocate.

We have come up with some new ideas such as the Flea Market, the Kay Dennis Nightclub, the All-Night P.A.R.T.Y. First rate films such as "The Graduate" and "Good Bye Columbus" have been shown by the Union Board. In addition, we have sponsored a great many dances in the gym, armory, and the Den. The remainder of this year looks to be as promising as the past six months with the spring semester to be climaxed with a totally new idea of the Spring Weekend to replace Walk-out Day.

I hate to sound bitter or close minded but I think you need to reevaluate yourself rather than evaluate Union Board. If you don't like what we're doing, come up with some better ideas, not just empty criticism.

In the four years I have been at NWMSC there have been a great many cliched articles concerning campus activities, suitcase students, and student apathy. I'm tired of it. We have spoon fed you. If you don't want to digest it, that's up to you.

—Bill Musgrave

Union Board president

Dear Editor:

First of all, I am not a hard-hat or a John Bircher, nor do I disagree with the school having a controversial speaker. I believe that it is necessary for a student to hear as many ideologies as possible while he is in college so that he may decide for himself which one he will adopt and believe in. What I am objecting to is paying a speaker such as Bernadette

Devlin, who is a self-confessed socialist, a large amount of money, most of which goes for furthering socialism itself.

When I asked her if it was true that she had told a reporter "if American capitalists are stupid enough to contribute to (her) socialistic cause, she would be glad to take it," she admitted it was true. She also said it was none of my business what she did with her money—well, that's where she's wrong. I do care what she does with my money that the college is spending for me without my consent. Indirectly I am supporting socialism and I resent it. I tried to find out how much she was being paid, but the Union Board refused to tell me.

I am one member of the silent majority who has decided to seek out and tell the students of this campus to wake up and find out how much of their money is being spent and for what end cause.

— David D. Matteson

Crashing Through...

Recent snow storms all but paralyzed educational facilities throughout northwest Missouri. With the exception of Maryville public schools and MSC, almost all classes were suspended including Missouri Western and UMKC.

For dormitory students and local teachers this battle against the weather was no more than a slight inconvenience, but for students and teachers who live a bit farther away from the snow covered campus, it presented real problems. Conflicting reports were abundant the night before as to whether classes would be held or not. But Monday morning revealed the beauty of the storm as well as the danger it presented to traveling, which MSC students and teachers were obliged to do.

When Winter lays such a heavy hand on northwest Missouri, some students wish for a one-day suspension of classes to allow time for partial snow removal from the streets and highways. That time-off might help to prevent those too common fender benders and near frozen extremities acquired when a faithful student educates himself in bad weather driving by piling his car up in some snow bank.

A Musical to Remember

By Cheryl Hawley

"We will go through this together — they, you, and I — and God forgive us all."

Steve Jennings as King Arthur in Camelot captured the strength and magnitude of the king when he spoke these words in one of the most inspiring scenes of the all-school musical "Camelot" last week. When I walked into the theater I expected to see Jennings on stage, but this was a misconception on my part. He was able to put aside his own character and become a new person of royalty.

Another outstanding performer and favorite of the audience was Paul Sherbo as Pellinore. Perhaps his part allowed for more characterization; however, he was able to comically portray a quaint old fellow effectively. His generous curtain call applause proved he had won his audience's hearts.

Homecoming Meeting

The first Homecoming meeting for 1971-72 will be at 5 p. m. on March 16 in Room 213, Colden Hall, according to Mary Ellen Whyte and Roger Lambright, co-chairmen.

Each organization is asked to send representatives. Ideas for themes will be discussed, and names will be submitted for eligible co-chairmen of individual committees.

Senate: Target for Criticism

"Why does the Senate think it possesses the power to tell the women what they want?"

Many women have declared that the Student Senate is pushing more inter-visitation for the dormitories and is disregarding the opinions of the women.

Questionnaires were distributed to men and women of the residence halls for students to select, if any, what days and hours they wanted to have open house. The tally showed favoritism of four days of the week; however, the Senate's proposal restricted the extension of hours the students preferred.

Many voices — especially females' — are now heard criticizing the Senate's decision. One could be led to think the number of those presently against the plan is contrary to the results of the Fey, added a spark of magic to the production. Myrick's farewell scene was exceptionally spell binding while Miss Cox's bewitching dance created a mysterious yet humorous vision.

Guenevere, played by Michelle Hucke, grew stronger as the play progressed. She gradually won the audience to the point of sympathizing with her in the closing scene.

Launcelot, Bill Bone, effectively portrayed "purity" both in his singing and speech.

The dances, coordinated by Miss Bonnie Magill and directed by Miss Jean Ford, conveyed well the atmosphere of the various scenes, while the orchestra, rehearsed by Dr. Donald Sandford and conducted by Mr. Byron Mitchell, delighted the audience as it set the mood for each phase of the musical.

Special recognition is also due to the construction crew; Mr. Michael Nichols, set designer; the costume and makeup crews, and Mr. David Shestak, costuming and makeup director. Surely special rehearsals must have taken place for the crews to be able to shift the beautiful sets from scene to scene so quickly.

A musical such as Camelot with such a large cast requires a great amount of organization and cooperation. Thanks go to Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom, production director, and all his co-workers for a marvelous production.

polls. Most are shooting arrows in the wrong direction. Evidently, many recipients filled out the form without thinking. Some signified their choices without questioning it, even if they did not fully understand it; or some felt it was an opportunity to gain liberation without contemplating the outcome. After Senate received the results of the responses, it was not their responsibility to decide the integrity involved.

Before the female species blames the outcome on the opposite sex, it is important to point out that approximately 70 per cent of the forms were returned to the men's dorm council and a mere 20 to 25 per cent of the female pollees responded. Women, it seems, are subject to the prevalent disease known as apathy.

If women are complaining that Senate is telling them what they want, then they are a good example of how easy it is to pass the blame before fully examining a situation.

Night Club Show Planned by Board

The success of the night club performance of Kay Dennis in December has prompted Union Board to schedule another night club program for 8:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. Tuesday in the Union Ballroom.

The musical background will be provided by Sound Farm, a four piece group from Columbia that has entertained audiences at the Vanguard in Kansas City.

The board believes the night club setting provides an atmosphere that is informal and intimate. It is different from a dance or a concert, with the emphasis being placed on good listening and conversation.

Scholarships Go To 5 Speakers

MSC's Tri-State Invitational Speech and Drama Festival was held last Saturday with five high school students winning scholarships to be used as incoming freshmen.

Those who received the $75 scholarships from Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, and Pi Kappa Delta, national forensics fraternity, were Connie Jo McKnight, Johnson-Brock High School, Johnson, Neb., oral interpretation; Becky O'Neal, Cameron, and David Henry, Maryville, oratory; Linda Prawitz, Bishop LeBlond, St. Joseph, extemporaneous speaking, and Jackie Pollack, South Harrison, Bethany, best actress.

Awards were made at the climaxing banquet.

Schools receiving sweepstakes certificates from festival director Kathryn Bennett were Bishop LeBlond, first place; and Cameron, second place. One-act plays cited in the drama division were South Harrison, Bethany, superior; Albany, excellent; and Maryville, good.

Other students gaining superior ratings were Janet Stuck, Bishop LeBlond, St. Joseph, and Vickie Allen, North Nodaway, Hopkins, both in oral interpretation.

At the conclusion of the awards banquet, students and sponsors attended "Camelot" as guests of the speech department.

Bernadette Devlin Calls for Global Socialism

By Carole Snyder

In spite of being visibly exhausted from her extensive lecture tour, Bernadette Devlin came on strong to advocate international socialism to a mixed audience of over 1,000, in her lecture here Feb. 25.

During a news conference prior to her lecture Miss Devlin described the North Ireland struggle as "similar to struggles being waged inside America, in Vietnam, in Poland and in Czechoslovakia . . . the struggles are all manifestations of the same international trouble: the fact that the working class of the world is exploited by the very small minority who form the ruling class of the world."

Problems of religious prejudice or racial hatred cannot be solved until the problems of poverty, oppression, discrimination, fear, and greed are solved, according to the Irish Catholic rights activist.

Lecture fees from her tour are intended for the development of a socialist research center in Northern Ireland to establish economic equality for the unemployed and lowly paid worker of North Ireland, according to Miss Devlin.

Commenting on her recent jail term, with a brief smile, she said, "I had four months in a relatively comfortable jail . . . When I went to jail, I considered myself a political prisoner. When I left prison, I considered everyone else in prison with me a political prisoner, even if they had no politics, because they were victims of the system under which they lived."

Asked about Americans who oppose her, Miss Devlin said, "A lot of Americans are hopefully wishing I would advocate the overthrow of your government, because doing such with my having a criminal record would merit my deportation on the spot. I'm not that stupid."

For Angela Davis

Miss Devlin, who wore a "Free Angela Davis" pin, explained, "The significance is that she, like many other people, are being condemned to prison for their political beliefs by the so-called democratic countries. Therefore, I support not only the Free Angela Davis Campaign, but the building of an international movement to end political repression."

About the Vietnam war, Miss Devlin said, "I don't know what the hell you're doing in there . . . you fail to avoid Cambodia and Laos. You went in there. If America would stop playing the big capitalist at the expense of the rest of the world, there would be a lot more peace."

Concerning those who oppose the war, she pointed out that the labor unions who have said they are against the war in Vietnam are still shipping to Vietnam. She suggested if they are against the war, they should stop shipment.

"If the young people of America are against the war in Vietnam, let them stay at home. Your prisons may be intolerable, but at least you're not killing people or getting killed if you are in American prisons rather than fighting for freedom in Vietnam."

Many Attend

Miss Devlin's speech was attended by both college and town persons, some of whom walked out before she finished.

She had previously warned that people on other campuses have sometimes been disappointed in her lectures, since she didn't "breathe fire on them like a real-live-revolutionary." The petite 23-year-old stood on her toes throughout her talk to see over the lecturn. Approximately 25 people among the nearly 1,000 present gave her a standing ovation at the end of her speech.

Urging students never to forget that they are members of the working class, no matter how well-paid, she added that there are one and one-half million workers in Northern Ireland. She then gave a brief background of the political history of Northern Ireland, relating it to today's conditions.

"You have to evaluate suffering. No one in Ireland ever dies of hunger, unlike America. But, that's not saying people don't suffer. A child dies because of its class. Our standard of living is lower than America's test our stomachs aren't that much smaller."

'Don't Fight Selves'

Miss Devlin suggested that the working class should quit fighting among themselves and direct their energies against the owners who own "our lives and tell us how to live."

"We can't and won't tolerate this situation much longer," she explained. "We're asking for what is ours. We are dying as it is. Will we use violence? Does it make any difference? We are dying as it is!"

In a questions session following, she strongly objected to being called a "Stalinist," but insisted that she is a "Trotskyist" and further objected to the suggestion that the workers' movement is connected with violence.

"Because we are a democratic majority, there should be no need for violence. Do you think that the 5 per cent will be so democratic when the working class begins to voice its opinion?"

She suggested to one questioning young man, "I've got my theory through experience.

How about you going from theory to action?"

At the conclusion of the questions session, a mass of persons flooded the front of the auditorium, trying to get backstage. However, it was to no avail as a member of the Union Board had slipped away with Miss Devlin.

Board Announces Staff Changes

Board reorganization, raises in faculty rank, and changes in staff were major items of business considered by the Northwest Missouri State College Board of Regents at its meeting last week.

Mr. C. F. Russell, Trenton, was chosen president of the regents. He succeeds Garvin Williams, Maryville, whose second term on the board expired this year.

Other officers elected are Mr. W. M. C. Dawson, Grant City, vice president; Mr. Don Henry, Maryville, business manager, treasurer; Mrs. Monica Zirfas, secretary to President Robert P. Foster, board secretary. Other board members present included Mr. A. B. Vogt, Stanberry; Mr. W. F. Phares Jr., Maryville, and Judge John Yeaman, Weston, a new appointee.

22 Elevations in Rank

Elevations in academic rank included:

From teaching assistant to instructor — Mrs. Irma Merrick, Mrs. Betty Wood.

From instructor to assistant professor — Mr. Gerald Hickman, Mr. Paul Jones, Mr. Christopher Kemp, Mr. Byron Mitchell, Mr. Tom Sayre, Dr. David Smith, Mr. Robert Sun-kel, and Mr. Gerald Wright.

From assistant professor to associate professor — Dr. John Byrd, Mr. John Dougherty, Dr. Fred Esser, Dr. Jerry Gallentine, Dr. Merle Leshner, Miss Ruth Miller, Mrs. Mary Jane Sandford, Dr. Stanley Wade, Mr. Ryland Milner.

From associate professor to professor — Dr. Sam Carpenter, Dr. Harlan Higginbotham, and Dr. William Lecklider.

Other Staff Changes

Mr. Richard Flanagan, teaching assistant and assistant football coach, on a part-time basis at present.

Flanagan, football coach at Savannah High School for the past six years, holds a bachelor of science in education from Northwest Missouri State College and expects to receive the master of science in education degree from MSC this summer.

Robert Finley, interim instructor in the department of business, Finley holds a bachelor of science from MSC and will receive the master of business administration from MSC in June.

Mrs. Annie Lou Rowlette, instructor of home economics. Mrs. Rowlette holds a bachelor of science in education from MSC and a master of science

Phi Sig Frolics To Feature Comedy

"Mission Impossible" is the theme for this year's Frolics to be presented at 8 p. m. March 12 and 13 in the Administration Building Auditorium by Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

The three-act comedy features Wayne Steinmeir as Mr. Phillips with Doug La Russo and Randy Hodgins as his villainous foes.

Tickets will be sold daily from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. in the Den. Proceeds from the play will go to the Ugly Man Scholarship Fund.

Alpha Mu Gamma Inducts 2 Pledges

Following the initiation, Dr. Luis Macias showed some slides on Spain.

from the University of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Joyce Wilkerson, acting supervisor of the Health Center; Mrs. Ruth Aink, health center nurse.

Mrs. Sherri Reeves, currently an academic adviser at MSC, has been reassigned interim instructor in women's physical education.

Mrs. Susan Gille, formerly a member of the health center staff, has been reassigned to the School of Practical Nursing.

Other appointments included: Miss Mary Richmond, clerk in the placement office; Mrs. Adela VanFossen, Union snackbar; Mr. Joe Butler, custodian in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Resignations accepted included: Mr. Gene Small, instructor of political science; Mrs. Carolyn Sharp, clerk in the placement office; Mr. James Gray, custodian in the Fine Arts Building; Mrs. Florence Harris, clerk in the registrar's office; Mrs. Helen O'Connor, nurse; Mr. Harold Gray, security officer; Mr. Arlie Doolin, custodian, and Mrs. Mary Briley, Union snack bar.

Workshops Approved For Graduate Study

Credit for two workshops on the William Jewell College Campus, Liberty, will be granted to MSC graduate students this summer.

The two workshops to be offered are "Revolution in Early Childhood Education: What is Happening in Pre-School Education in the United States?" and "The Open School: Ideas in Search of Schools." Enrollment for both can be completed at William Jewell College before or on the opening day of classes.

"Revolution in Early Childhood Education" will be held May 31 to June 11 and "The Open School" will be held June 7 to June 18.

Only students who have earned a bachelor's degree from accredited institutions and have met the admissions requirements at MSC can enroll for graduate credit. MSC regulations stipulate that only two short-term workshops for graduate credit may be applied to an MSC graduate degree.

Wood Blocks Come to Life

Very few things seem as lifeless as a block of wood. Yet Steve Thompson, MSC junior, seems to have given life to a block of wood.

As a part of his work toward a degree in industrial arts, Steve is taking a general course in woodworking. This in itself is not unusual, but the unusual part is that for his first project he made a carving that is the envy of many in the industrial arts department.

Steve had done little carving prior to his solid walnut carving. To make it, he fashioned a silhouette of each miniature giraffe, filed it down, and then connected them to the base. With the use of a synthetic plastic varnish, he was able to give it a smooth, silken finish while bringing out the beauty of the wood grain.

Carving is only one of Steve's outside interests. On many weekends he custom shears sheep. For instance, last weekend he sheared 30 head, averaging four and one-half each hour.

With varying talents such as these, who can tell where his future lies.

Pi Kappa Delta Initiates Members

Initiation ceremonies will be held Monday night for seven pledges of the Missouri Kappa chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, forensic honor fraternity. For their participation in intercollegiate forensic activities, Anita Cox, Fred Maharry, Gene Melvin, Kurt Moore, Mimi Pickard, Bill Rotts and Chris Sagrilla are to be initiated as new members.

Officers for the coming year will be Bill Rotts, president; Wayne Brinton, vice president; Kurt Moore, secretary, and Fred Maharry, treasurer.

Agriculture Leaders Attended State Meet

Several members of the agriculture department recently attended a meeting in Columbia dealing with the articulation of courses on the junior college, state college, and university levels.

Heading the delegation from MSC was Mr. Fred Oomens, who serves as state chairman of the agricultural mechanization committee. Also attending the conference, and listed with their special interest area, were Dr. Donald Shelby, agricultural economics; Dr. George Gille, soils; Dr. Dennis Padgett, animal science, and Mr. William Treese, plant science.

YOU ARE INVITED to participate in the Open Senate meeting at 7:30 Wednesday in the Ballroom.

Surprises Highlight Annual Yearbook Dance

And the Lights Flashed On

Amid flashing stop and go lights and a vibrating, pulsating beat of the band, the Tower Dance last Friday night was filled with surprises.

At intermission, editor Lynn Ridenour made some unexpected announcements concerning the Tower. He mentioned such things as the dedication — there isn't any; the queen — there isn't any; the theme — it's a secret, and the deadlines — they've been met. Also, the Tower, a new and different yearbook, will come out on time this year.

Mrs. B. J. Alcott introduced the retiring staff and announced next year's co-editors — Mary Kay Meintel and Mike Oliver.

After Jane Mann had introduced the new members of Embers, she announced that next semester Embers will become part of a national organization, Mortar Board.

Vic Jenkins presented the new Blue Key members and paid special tribute to Dr. Frank Grube for helping to start Blue Key on campus.

Blue Key Cities Greg McDade As February Man of Month

Greg McDade, active member of BST, has been selected Blue Key Man of the Month for February.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleophus McDade, St. Louis, Greg is a junior radio and television major at MSC. He was responsible for fostering the Brothers and Sisters Together, black organization on campus. He wrote their constitution and served as the first president of BST.

"In BST, we have tried to help freshman blacks stabilize themselves so that they will stay in college and do something with their education," Greg stated.

The honoree also pointed out that he had hoped that BST would be an "anchoring force" through which all black groups in Missouri could unify. However, due to lack of funds and apathy on the part of black students on campus, this dream has not yet become a reality, McDade said.

McDade further revealed that black attendance at MSC is always variable. "We're never sure who will be here for the next semester — we have no stable nucleus of organizaers," commented the black leader.

BST also tries to make blacks more aware of today's happenings by handing out political information, Greg reported.

Education Faculty To Do Radio Series

Members of the Division of Education will be participating in regular radio programs on KXCV, MSC's campus FM station.

Items of educational interest will be presented to inform listeners of innovations in education. Some programs will be directed to parents in the field who have children in school.

Periodical broadcast announcements will be made to student teachers. A "piggy-back technique" will be used in the future to broadcast to areas where student teachers are assigned.

Series of Movies Planned for Den

Three Sunday night den movies are scheduled for the Month of March.

"Requiem for a Heavy Weight" starring Anthony Quinn, Jackie Gleason, and Mickey Rooney will be shown Sunday.

It is a realistic and intense drama of a heavy weight champion who is dragged down to a mere wrestling clown because of his manager's ambitions. Quinn stars as the champion while Gleason does an outstanding job in his role as the manager.

March 14 promises movie watchers John Van Druten's very funny play "Bell, Book, and Candle." Stars include Kim Novak, James Stewart, Jack Lemmon, and Hermoine Gingold. This is the story of witchcraft practices in Manhattan by Kim Novak, family, and friends. Stewart is caught up in the activities of her after-hour haunt. There he meets Elsa Lancaster, who hexes homes and unlocks doors, and Jack Lemmon, whose specialties include snarling traffic lights and sticking automobile horns.

"On the Waterfront," to be shown March 21, is the true story of a priest who sets out to smash control of the New York waterfront. Caught up in the struggle is a long shoreman who becomes willing to risk his life for what he believes is right. Marlon Brando, Lee J. Cobb, and Eva Marie Saint star in this emotion-charged tale.

All den movies this month will be shown in the Den at 7:30 p. m.

2. Secure an application from the Office of Financial Aid and submit it not later than 60 days following the close of the fall semester.
3. See that recommendations from his major adviser and another faculty member are placed on file 60 days following the close of the 1970 fall semester.
4. Submit all applications to the financial aids committee for their consideration, with decisions to be based on semester G. P. A., cumulative G. P. A., and personal recommendations.

Scholarship Forms

Available for Women

Applications for the Maryville branch of the AAUW fellowships and scholarships for next year will be taken until March 15, according to Mrs. Mary Jane Sunkel, scholarship chairman.

The $500 May Corwin award will be granted to a woman from the Northwest Missouri area who is a junior, senior, or graduate student.

The branch's Junior scholarship will be granted to a woman who will be a senior next year. She must have at least a 2.7 average and must take her senior year's studies at NWMSC to qualify for the award.

Women wanting to know more about the interest free Anna M. Painter fellowship may get information from Mrs. Sunkel. Applications for all of the scholarships may also be secured from her in Colden Hall 207B.

President Asks Senate to Head Recruitment

MSC President Robert P. Foster made a plea for help in recruiting potential students during the Tuesday night Senate meeting.

The President described an "unprecedented situation" in which the Missouri legislature has fixed a projected MSC enrollment that must be realized in order to meet budget requirements. Consequences of not reaching the budget indicate that an increased enrollment is a primary objective

Phi Sigmas Accept 23 Spring Pledges

Twenty-three men are pledging Phi Sigma Epsilon this month, according to Roy Stephenson, reporter.

The range of academic interests within the group includes industrial arts, English-journalism, history, animal science, pharmacy, business, law, biology, and physical education.

Drake and Taylor Address MISL Sectional Conference

Mr. Jerry Drake, Missouri State Representative from Grant City and Mr. Errol Taylor, St. Joseph attorney, were guest speakers highlighting the Northwest Missouri sectional meeting of M.I.S.L. (Missouri Intercollegiate Student Legislature) held on the MSC campus last Saturday.

Drake, representing the Democrats, issued a non-partisan call to meet the need of "democratizing our union by making the men at the top responsible to people at the bottom for their actions."

"We need men," he continued, "with a sense of history. Government power should be replaced by people (power). The concentration of power in the hands of the few is a major problem of the latter third of this century."

Taylor, Republican speaker, likewise addressed his message to members of both parties by stressing the importance of youth participation in politics.

"The place to go to really understand and to work for your ideals is on the local county level. It can be a lot of fun if you're doing what you believe in."

"If you want to have an effect on politics," he added, "you can do it best within the party structure. If you are concerned, you have to be active and the best way to be active is to work within the system."

Steve Bixler, Republican, and Mike Nichols, Democrat, were elected chairman and vice-chairman of Northwest Sectional and will head MSC delegates to the overall mock legislative session to be held at the Missouri Capitol, Jefferson City, in May.

Campaign Techniques

The President encouraged all students to confer with prospective enrollees and to invite them to visit the campus; he offered free meals to visiting seniors and various informational pamphlets to those interested in applying for enrollment.

A mass meeting for those volunteers interested in recruitment in their home high schools will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Union Ballroom. Administrators will be present at that time to discuss effective contacting methods and to distribute materials containing information about different aspects of the college.

Student Legislature

Senators allocated $100 to be used in financing a trip by College Republicans and College Democrats to a three-day student government session in Jefferson City. The 26 MSC delegates will join other student legislators in operating government affairs there for one day.

During the convention, MSC spokesmen will encourage passage of Senate Bill No. 30, a bill pending in the Missouri legislature which would boost status of MSC by changing its name to "Northwest Missouri State University."

Campus Police

A recommendation that students be employed as campus policemen will be sent to the administration.

The proposal was suggested after Senators complained that the present campus police force is "inadequate" in many aspects, especially in stopping the stealing of articles from cars in parking lots. Senators agreed that student policemen would be "more reliable" and "more highly respected."

Constitutional Amendment

An amendment to the student constitution, presented for consideration by Senator Bill An-draws, will be voted upon during the next meeting. The amendment proposes that class officers would be required to attend Senate meetings, be placed on Senate committees, and be activated in helping during Senate-sponsored elections. Only the class president and Senator would have voting privileges during the meetings, but all officers could vote within the committees.

Senator Kathy Jones reported that the joint Senate-AWS committee has recommended to AWS that revision be made in disciplinary campuses. The change would require that a campused woman dormitory resident check in every hour between 7 p. m. and 1 a. m. at the desk, see no male visitors, and receive only long distance telephone calls. She would, however, be allowed freedom of movement within the dorm and speaking privileges with other residents.

Questions About Drugs Subject of Seminar

Questions, answers, local speakers, and noted authorities will comprise the Drug Symposium to be held here on March 11, 12, 18, and 19.

The seminar, sponsored by the Missouri State Board of Education and MSC, has the goal of educating the attendees in the scientific, legal, and moral aspects of drug usage.

Consisting mainly of discussion groups, the workshop will be held from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on both Thursdays and from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on both Fridays.

Dr. David E. Smith, a renowned drug researcher, will speak at 10:30 a. m. and again at 7 p. m. on March 11.

One speech of topical interest will be Morality and Ethics. The Rev. Paul Hunt, director of Wesley Center, will deliver that talk at 9 a. m. on March 28.

Many of the discussions and speeches will be taped both visually and vocally. The equipment for the taping will be provided by IMB.

'Cats Edge Loop Champs, Get Second Place Honors

MSC knocked off MIAA basketball champion NEMSC, 75-71, Monday night before a standing room crowd at Lamkin Gymnasium and tied for second place honors in the loop league.

In the final contest of the season for both clubs, MSC finished 14-8 overall and 8-4 in the MIAA. Northeast wrapped up the season at 17-3 and 9-3. Ken Whitney's 23-point performance led the 'Cats' offensive charge. The senior co-captain played a superior role as he clicked on 10 of 13 shots from the field and had a perfect night from the free throw line, dropping in three charity tosses.

Don Nelson and Darnell Moore also gave MSC strong offensive support, ripping the nets for 22 and 16 points, respectively.

In a highly physical contest, in which Kirksville went 15:26 seconds before getting a foul in the second half, Northwest ruled the backboards with a 47-46 advantage.

The Bulldogs were led by freshman gunner Joe Boyer's 23-point performance. Most of Boyer's points came from the 25-foot range.

Greek Leaders In Intramurals

Greek intramural basketball leaders were determined Tuesday night.

The leaders are, by leagues: A: Chodes, Phi Sigma Epsilon; B: Zombies, Phi Sigma Epsilon; C: Pelicans, Sigma Tau Gamma; D: Vandals, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The over-all Greek competition is led by Sig Tau with 150 points followed by Phi Sigma Epsilon, 138; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 120; Alpha Kappa Lambda, 114; Delta Chi, 114; Delta Sig, 109.

Deadlines for entries in intramural competition in badminton, ping pong, smash, free throw, and volleyball is March 12. Paddleball entries are due March 5.

March 19 marks the deadline for entries in track and fast and slow pitch softball.

Matmen Rout William Jewell

The MSC wrestling squad routed the William Jewell squad, 46-0, to complete this year's dual meet slate.

The Bearcats, under first year head coach George Worley, completed the season with an 8-5 dual meet record.

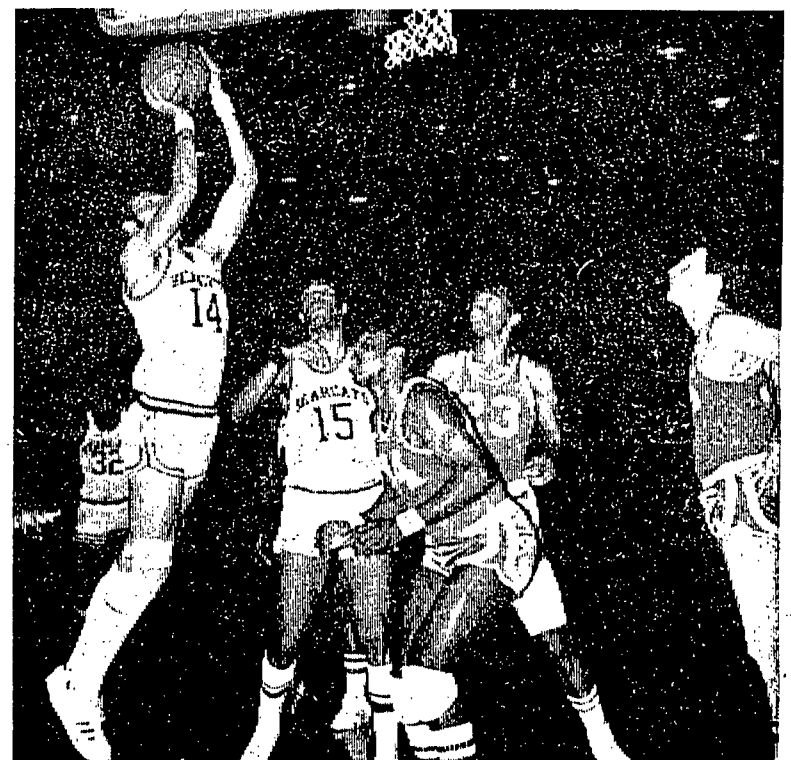

MSC's scoring was led by Harley Griffon, Gene Harmegnies, and Dennis Hansen. Each man won his match by a fall.

Three decision victories by the Bearcats and four forfeits by William Jewell rounded out MSC's scoring.

The matmen will be at OMSC for the MIAA tournament today and Saturday.

Co-Captain Ken Whitney goes high for a layup in the Bearcats' 75-71 defeat of Northeast State. Co-Captain Carl Jenkins stands on the alert as NE's Dave Davis races in too late to stop the Bearcat ace.

Swimmers Stop St. Louis U., Prepare for Conference Meet

The Bearcat swimming team, guided by Coach Lewis Dyche, dunked St. Louis University, 80-33, in a dual meet Friday night in the 'Cat pool. The victory gave the Bearcats an 8-2 season record in dual meets.

Stroking to a new record of 3:53.7 in the 400-yard medley relay were Mark Richmond, Randy Rolfe, Charles Brewton, and Glen Saving. Vincent Saputo placed second in the 1,000-yard freestyle and came back to win second in the 500-yard free. In the 200-yard breaststroke, Ron Harris captured second.

Saving posted a first in the 50-yard free and a second in the 100-yard free. In each event, he improved his previous time. Bruce Schomburg splashed to a first in the 200-yard free with a time of 2:06.2; Bill Dalton took second clocking in at 2:06.6.

Konecny Takes Diving Event

Vic Konecny placed first in the individual medley diving event and set a new school record in the five-dive category. He has also qualified for the national swimming meet. In second place was diver Bob Finch, who set a personal record of 144.45 points.

Individual medley tanker, Don Morris, won first place in the 200-yard event with a time of 1:47.3. Charles Brewton took first and Ron Harris, second in the 200-yard butterfly. First place in the 200-yard backstroke went to Richmond, and John Grubb came in second. Konecny was first in the three meter diving and Finch scored second.

The 400-yard free relay team — Richmond, Morris, Dalton, and Schomburg — stroked to a victory over St. Louis University with a winning time of 3:39.0.

Strong Conference Meet

For the conference meet today and Saturday at Southeast, the MSC Bearcat coach has entered his strongest swimmers to try to outscore the opponents.

Entered in the 100-yard and 200-yard backstroke will be two rugged tankers, Richmond and Grubb. Each of these swimmers has had a successful season. MSC's top-diver, Vic Konecny, shows promise of placing extremely high in one and three-meter diving, and Bob Finch's diving ability should bring MSC additional points.

Glen Saving, MSC freestyle, will place at the meet in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle, and Charles Brewton, swimming in the 100-yard butterfly, will battle for an additional place.

Three other MSC swimmers, Randy Rolfe, Bill Dalton, and Ron Harris, have good possibilities of placing in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke. Individual medley tankers, Don Morris and Dalton, should place in the 200 individual medley, giving MSC extra points.

Mark Richmond, Bearcat backstroker, qualified for the national meet and set a new 200-yard backstroke record of 2:11.7 in the meet against St. Louis University.

Grapplers Spread MSC's Winning Message

By Dan Leighninger

What could this year's Northwest Missouri State College and future wrestling squads do to add to the already outstanding record book built by past 'Cat grappler teams?

To this query, new head wrestling mentor George Worley has a ready answer: "Win this year's MIAA Conference Tournament and maintain the Bearcat winning image."

Since the beginning of the 13-year-old sport here, Bearcat wrestling squads have posted an amazing winning percentage of .808, with 118 victories, 28 losses, and two ties by teams working under the direction of three head coaches.

Wrestling achieved intercollegiate status at NWMSC in 1957 under the guidance of Dr. H. D. Peterson, then chairman of the department of physical education. During Dr. Peterson's three-year tenure, his squads claimed 36 wins against only eight defeats.

Then came the man who spread the Bearcat wrestling message across the nation—Coach Jerry Landwer. In five campaigns as the college's head wrestling mentor, Landwer brought national acclaim to NWMSC by posting a fantastic record of 61 victories and six losses, while beating some of the top teams in the nation.

In addition, his squads captured two conference crowns and won 36 consecutive dual meets.

Next came Gary Collins, who guided the 'Cats in maintaining the winning tradition, as his teams compiled a 21-14 record during his three years as head coach. Collins also coached two NCAA College Division champions — Paul Stehman (137 lb.-1969) and Stan Zeamer (134-lb.- 1970).

In looking ahead to this year's MIAA Conference Tournament, which has eluded MSC the past four seasons, Coach Worley feels his young squad has a fair shot at the crown.

"We've been very competitive this year (8-5 so far) considering we have only one senior and four juniors on our squad," said Worley.

As far as the NCAA tourney is concerned, the former U. S. Marine grappler commented, "We'll just have to wait and see. I think any of our men who win their weight divisions in the MIAA tourney should have the right to participate. And if I feel any of our second place men did an outstanding job, I'll take them too."

A look at some of the past year's records shows that the present Bearcats have the kind of background that would inspire any grappler to bring new achievements to the school.
